

Delivering Feedback

Workshop information

Strengthen relationships and drive performance with constructive feedback

Feedback is one of the most powerful tools a leader can use to inspire growth and improve performance. Yet, many leaders struggle to deliver feedback in a way that's both effective and empowering.

This workshop equips participants with the skills to deliver constructive, actionable feedback that builds trust and fosters development. Part of the Coaching and Empowering practices of the practive8 model, this three-hour session helps leaders turn feedback into a tool for growth and collaboration.

Why delivering feedback matters

Feedback is essential for building strong teams and driving improvement. Leaders who deliver feedback effectively can:

- Build trust and strengthen relationships within their teams.
- Drive individual and organisational growth by addressing challenges constructively.
- Create a culture of continuous improvement and open communication.

As Ken Blanchard said, "Feedback is the breakfast of champions."

Workshop features for maximum impact

- 1. The art of constructive feedback
Learn techniques to deliver feedback that is clear, actionable, and focused on growth.
- 2. Building a feedback culture
Discover how to create an environment where feedback is welcomed and valued.
- 3. Prepare, practise, perfect
Includes pre-work (self-assessment and reflective activities) and post-workshop resources to embed learning.
- 4. Customised for your team
A pre-session consultation ensures the workshop reflects your organisation's specific feedback challenges and goals.

Who is this workshop for?

This workshop is ideal for managers, team leaders, and senior leaders who want to improve their feedback skills and foster a culture of open communication.
